Friday afternoon, the mainstream media outlets, including CNN, MSNBC, CBS News and others gained access to the apartment previously occupied by San Bernardino terrorists Syed Farook and Tashfeen Malik.

The property's landlord was on hand to let the media in and, according to Mediaite, one reporter from "Inside Edition" was able to secure a place at the front of the line by paying $1,000 (<http://www.mediaite.com/online/msnbcs-live-tour-of-sbshooting-killers-apartment-is-most-awful-thing-ever/>) for the premium spot.

A large group of reporters and their crews entered the apartment and began reporting live, showing viewers what was, until recently, the home and belongings of what appeared to be a typical young family:

According to Mashable (http://mashable.com/2015/12/04/san-bernardino-shooters-apartment-journalists/#njfu_zmN7gqa), landlord Doyle Miller said he didn't plan to let media into the apartment. He said that "they rushed" when he opened the door.

Eventually, law enforcement showed up:

The media should have been arrested also for destroying a crime scene.
